USTR Issues More Product Exclusions

The Office of the U.S. Trade Representative has issued another set of product exclusions from the third group of the China Section 301 tariffs. The new exclusions cover 176 specially prepared product descriptions, which were derived from 202 separate exclusion requests. The product exclusions apply retroactively to September 24, 2018, the date List 3 took effect, and will expire August 7, 2020.

The USTR has also requested comments on medical goods that should be exempt from the tariffs in response to the COVID-19 epidemic, he said in a notice. In order to be considered, each product must state precisely how the product relates to the COVID-19 outbreak.

Please stay safe!
